I am holding you tight in a tender embrace.
Tonight is the night and we're outside of time and space.
I am touching your skin, its softness makes my head spin.
I'm taking you in, don't know where to begin.

I can smell the sweet scent of your luscious hair.
For me you're heaven sent and I'm intensely aware of your every move, every breath that you're taking.
Every step that you make leaves me shivering and shaking.

I can feel my heart, it is beating like a drum,
and every single part of me has to succumb to this rhythm we share, to this duet we've begun where our two bodies dare to move just like one.

We've reached complete synchronicity!
Every beat thrusts us deeper into this simmering sea.
We are swaying as the heat wave takes us away.
I wish this moment could last, I wish this feeling would stay but I can hardly keep my excitement at bay.

We're lost in sensual bliss
I briefly stop, ... this is too much to bear.
Your beauty fills the air,
and it fills this fleeting moment I am living with you,
this moment that slowly makes one out of two.

Never before have I felt the way I do
I couldn't be more in harmony with you
We are night and day, we are ying and yang, you are my lady and I am your man.

I'm feeling light and free right to the core of my soul.
Although we're opposite parts, we're both part of a whole.
We are melting into one and the heat is entrancing
every time that we are ... passionately dancing.

Solo

I'm feeling light and free right to the core of my soul.
Although we're opposite parts, we're both part of a whole.
We are melting into one and the heat is entrancing every time that we ...
